MT. XENIA.

—Those who have examined the fruit crop hereabouts say that it is all right up to date.

—Dr. T. M. Lewis and daughter, Miss Maggie, went to Mitchellsburg Friday to visit relatives.

—A fine milk cow (by actions Baptist or Campbellite) belonging to Mrs. Ann Gastineau broke her neck trying to get to water a few days ago. In descending the bank of a small stream the animal slipped and fell with the result stated.

—An old gentleman, who has been confined to his room by sickness for about two months, remarked the other day in my presence that he had one especial reason for having such a desire to get well. When I asked him what that was, he remarked, "Just to get a chance to vote against the new constitution."

—Archie Cook, aged about 13, was mentioned some time ago in the columns of this paper as a natural genius, after having made a genuine violin and various other musical instruments, etc., and he has just added more proof of this fact. He saw a planchette a few minutes while in Danville a few days ago, and on returning home he made one that works to perfection. To see "the darn thing," as I heard an old fellow refer to it, write correct answers to almost every question asked it and to know that it was made by a child, does seem a little remarkable, to say the least. Archie is going to make a mark in this mixed-up world.

—Another sudden death has been added to the long list that have occurred recently in Lincoln and Boyle. Mrs. Lucinda Myers went to bed well and in her usual fine spirits Saturday night. At 3 a. m. she awoke her daughter, Miss Lucy, and told her that it was difficult for her to breathe at all and that something must be done immediately. A doctor was quickly sent for and when he arrived, about 4 o'clock, she was dead.

"Aunt Cinda," as everybody called her, was just simply one of the best old women in the country and her sudden departure has made innumerable hearts sad.

It was a terrible blow to the family, in which there has been a death every four years, I am told, for the last 24 years. She would have been 76 in December next; was married nearly 58 years ago to David Myers, who, with 6 of their 9 children, preceded her to the grave.

The three surviving children are Mrs. Sim Cook, F. D. Myers and Miss Lucy Myers. She was born and always lived in the house in which she died. Mrs. Myers had been a member of the Baptist church at Danville for many years.

After funeral services the remains will be laid to rest in the family burying-ground this, Monday, afternoon at 3 o'clock.

—Mt. Xenia is not an ordinary place by any means. In fact, it should adorn the pages of the history of Kentucky. It is the birth-place of the late lamented Col. A. M. Swope, whose remarkable and illustrious life and tragic death is almost world-wide known. This neighborhood sent out Col. Matthew Dawson Hughes, to become a lawyer, preacher and editor of the Lancaster News; Farris R. Feland to be a lawyer, preacher and editor of the Lawrenceburg News; also Alfred A. Lewis as editor of the Somerset Republican; John L. Bosley, who has been editor of the Winchester Sun; Robert Bosley, now with a Kansas city paper, and others belonging to the newspaper fraternity. The medical, legal and nearly every profession has representatives from this section, including preachers, also, in various States and Territories. The old school-house on the hill has a tender place in the hearts of hundreds scattered over nearly every State in the Union, who look back at the time spent there as a bright oasis in the desert of life. There are more sound democrats, headed by the veterans, "Uncle Logan" Dawson and "Uncle George" Tribble, to the square inch than in any other neighborhood in Kentucky, and here more genuine hospitality can be dispensed in less time than most any place that can be found. There are also scattered around a good many pretty girls—but as I am not in that business, now, I'll touch this subject lightly.

—Mrs. Betsy Robinson celebrated her birth-day last Thursday in good shape. She declared she would not and did not tell a single one of the large number of guests present how old she was that day, but in a way characteristic of "Aunt Bet," said: "I am in my 'teens' on this occasion, as usual, and would like to marry. If I had my choice I would take a widower with a limited number of children." The excellent dinner, prepared by Mrs. Robinson's daughter, Mrs. John White, and grand-daughters, Misses Mamie and Pearl White, included "everything you could think of that is good" and was proof positive that if you beat them "fixing up good things" you will have to get up before day. Each and every one present on this occasion say they never spent a more enjoyable day, and all hope "Aunt Bet" will live forever. Among those present from Lincoln and Boyle counties were: J. Logan Dawson, Sr., and wife, Col. El Logan, Mrs. Dr. H. P. Bosley and son, George Tribble and wife, Mrs. Funk, F. D. Myers, wife and daughter, Miss Minnie, P. L. Simpson, Miss Lucy Simpson, Jack Bosley, wife and daughters, Misses Josie and Mattie, J. W. Embanks and wife, Mrs. Evan Waters, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Idol and children, Mrs. Joe F. Waters, daughter and son, Mrs. James Harlan Mrs. Robert Lytle, Miss Bessie Lytle, Mr. Armon and wife, Messrs. House, Martin, Harris, etc.

SKEATAW.

LONDON LAUREL COUNTY.

—Col. Norman was here Wednesday holding up his end of the auditorship race.

—Dr. Levi Maples died Thursday night. He was a young and promising physician, well-known and liked.

—We are ready to take back everything we said about getting the street lamps. They are here and London will no longer be in the dark.

—Mrs. Jesse Lovelace died at her home two miles east of London Saturday. Her husband is also seriously ill with pneumonia and may not live.

—Ed Lincks cut his brother-in-law, Thomas Webb, in the neck Friday morning. They were living together and had been at odds for some time. Webb may die.

—Evan Jones and Charley Godsey had a dispute over a settlement Wednesday and Jones knocked Godsey down. All this occurred on Main street and yet there were no arrests. What about all this, anyway?

—Collector J. H. Pearl has turned over something more than $1,100 of the town taxes collected by him within the last two weeks. This money goes towards paying off bonds issued for macadamizing the streets.

—Marriage licenses were issued this month to the following parties: Elven Williams to Katie Smith; F. F. Gooden to Grace Gooden; Simeon Jump to Mary Smith; C. A. Pearce to Mollie Tempkin; Jacob Geysler to Lina Buhlmann; C. G. Steele to Nannie Adams; L. W. Cox to Lucy Hale.

—It is not very well known that Mr. E. H. Boden, who was here a few months ago as a photographer, has married again at Willard. He ran off with Miss Julia Coyle, at Mt. Vernon, about two years ago, and they were married at Winfield, Tenn. Four years ago he was at Junction City and was living with Miss Belle there as his wife and passed her off here as his sister. He had Misses Belle and Julia with him as his sisters when he married at Willard.

—Of course you have already learned the particulars of the wreck at Hazel Patch. J. W. Miller, the express messenger who was killed, was brought here for surgical attention and died about 4 o'clock next morning. His skull was crushed, left arm dislocated and front of hip bone broken. T. J. Bosley, formerly of your town, was in the postal department of the same car and was not hurt the least bit. Mr. Miller was well liked by every railroad man who had made his acquaintance and was a personal friend of the writer. The ladies of London hearing of the wreck and that it was a serious one, with probably many lives lost, tendered their assistance with bedding, &c., to the L. & N., for which they received the thanks of the officials in Louisville, with the report that there was only one serious case and that had been sent to our town.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—J. M. Hail sold to a Rockcastle party a yoke of oxen for $90.

—F. F. Sandidge sold to W. H. Prewitt 22 135 pound hogs at 4¢ cents.

—E. P. Owleship shipped to a Columbus, Ga., party 25,000 pounds of rib sides at $6.10.

—J. B. Rout sold to J. K. Bangham a jack for $500 and bought of him a pair of mules for $300.

—A. B. Bonta sold to Joseph Haas, Tuesday, 4,000 pounds of wool at 25 cts. Harrodsburg Sayings.

—Daniel Brown, the well-known Lexington trainer, who was thrown from a break cart, died of his injuries Sunday.

—The farmers report that there are plenty of peaches alive yet and that the wheat is not hurt. A good many more peach blossoms have been killed by examination than by frost.

—The spring is the best time for transplanting evergreens and the roots should be exposed as little as possible in the air and sun during the process of removal and planting.

—Fire destroyed the Cincinnati Union Stock Yards Thursday night. It burned over 10 acres of shedded ground, and the loss is put at $150,000. There were also burned 7,000 tons of hay and 2,000 barrels of corn.

—Yesterday was a beautiful day, a good crowd was in town and some 300 cattle were on the market. Only a few were sold, however, and the prices were even below the average. Feeders brought 2 to 2½ cents and fat cattle 2½ to 3 cents. There were only mountain cattle offered. Mules sold at $130 and plug horses $50 to $75.

HUSTONVILLE.

—J. W. Allen sold J. P. Riffe 25 head of about 900 pound butcher stuff and feeders for $35.

—The many friends here of Charlie Kincaid rejoice with him in his prompt vindication by an intelligent jury.

—Our wheat fields have passed thro' the April blizzards unscathed and fruit on the lowest limbs will need thinning, so that Smith's ice spell continue to postpone till fall.

—It is rather selfish to forestall the readers in praise of Friday's encyclopedia issue of our paper, whose circulation has been conclusively demonstrated to be the largest of any first-class periodical in America.

—The business manager was here Saturday in disguise. The admirable manner in which he has held down the tripod during the editor's late tribulations demonstrated his exceptional capabilities, but we were not prepared for that full beard, so too utterly becoming.

—The business manager was here Saturday in disguise. The admirable manner in which he has held down the tripod during the editor's late tribulations demonstrated his exceptional capabilities, but we were not prepared for that full beard, so too utterly becoming.

—As old Waterloo swung into line in the horse show from a side street he collided with a flyer and as the old campaigner was scarcely jogging, the greater impetus of the other horse proved a Waterloo indeed for the old horse and driver, who went down under the shock, luckily only the sulky sustaining serious damage.

—Judge Varnon was up to see the show and feel a few pulses. Tom Newland tapped a few delinquents on the shoulder and didn't have to borrow money or travel dirt roads getting back home, as did one of his cleverest neighbors, who holds office and never dissipates either. Joe Severance was here carrying a grip with a brass padlock and Sam Owen had him in tow.

—Mr. J. B. Dunlap, of Los Angeles, Cal., is visiting his many relatives at and near Hustonville. Misses Anna Rife and Lucy Tucker are spending a couple of weeks with friends and relatives at Perryville. Mr. Cale Brown, late of Liberty, is on hand to take charge of the assorted liquid department of the Weatherford Hotel soon. As there is no Mrs. Cale to supervise the culinary branch, Mrs. Cammell will continue in charge, and the pilgrims still hasten the dates which will include that hostelry in their circuits. Billy Weatherford was here Saturday to take in the horse show and probably to give Cale a few pointers. Misses Ida and Blanche Twidwell are back from Florida, after a delightful winter at Jacksonville, much improved in health. Our irresistible old master, Dr. Hawk Brown, was, as usual, not forgotten, and is a baby alligator's very affectionate wet nurse. A few of our skeptics think it only an abnormally developed common, rough lizard, so plentiful in the forests, but naturalists at a glance recognize a saurian which can justly claim cousinship to the crocodile of Egypt.

—Saturday afternoon was a delightful contrast to the 4th inst., which was the anniversary horse show day, and the anniversary exhibition was a pronounced success. Late showers and snowstorms had rendered even harrowing impracticable to the half dozen farmers who are lucky enough to have gotten their plow teams straightened out, and the old men and their boys from all the country round about were here. The streets were jammed and the show superb. When it is known that there are between 35 and 40 licensed stallions and jacks within a radius of 3 miles of Hustonville and many whose reputations are not local, a better idea of the turn-out can be imagined than your correspondent can give, for barring ears and shingled tails, he does not know the difference between a mule and a horse. The stallions shown under saddle were glistening in their Sunday clothes and the angles at which they carried their heads, and tails in particular, together with their gingerly carriage, would almost indicate a complacent consciousness of the unbounded admiration they won. Names, pedigrees and points can be found in the columns of the SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL, published at Stanford, Ky., terms $2 per annum, always handed in with name. After the show Jim Goode caught the crowd and worked off what Wood Green couldn't find room for at Stanford at about 50 per cent. excess of retail price.

—The fourth oratorical contest was won at Lexington by John M. Stephen, son of Georgetown College. Centre College was represented by Samuel M. Wilson, of Louisville, and Central University by S. C. Stofer, of Mt. Sterling.

—A minister of Scottsburg, Ind., officiated at three weddings, dined in each case, walked 25 miles and preached two sermons—all on Easter Sunday. This teaches that under the stimulus of a few square meals a country minister is a very handy person.

—The M. E. Church, South, Church Extension department of the general conference boards, has helped this year 387 churches, paying them $82,729.42, as compared with 364 churches and $84,532 last year—an increase of 23 churches helped and a decrease in payments of $1,819.90.

—A map of Texas appeared this week in the daily papers with a map of Italy inside of it. As Kilgore, of Texas, once kicked open Congress with a boot the size of Italy, we propose that he be sent over to that country to exhibit his feet to Humbert, and this cruel war will soon be over.—Richmond Register.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—The Advocate tells of the marriage of Miss Lula Cotton to Joseph Crowder. They eloped to Lexington and returned husband and wife. The INTERIOR JOURNAL wishes them much happiness.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

—The address that accompanies the new constitution is a very nice specimen of special pleading.

—The "open clause" only provides for one amendment a year after three-fifths of the legislature have agreed to it and a majority of the people ratified it.

—Our wheat fields have passed thro' the April blizzards unscathed and fruit on the lowest limbs will need thinning, so that Smith's ice spell continue to postpone till fall.

—With their pockets full of railroad free passes it took an immense amount of gall for the members to forbid legislators to ride on free passes. But they perhaps knew how it was themselves.

—The Courier-Journal Job Company was awarded the job of printing and putting in pamphlet form the 200,000 copies of the constitution for $5,000. Four-fifths of this could have been saved by having the Courier-Journal print the document as it appeared in that paper in supplement form for the State press.

—The convention was in session 214 days and cost the State fully $200,000, including printing and mileage. The per diems amount to $105,930; president's salary $2,140; three clerks $6,420; sergeant-at-arms and doorkeeper $3,544; janitors $3,003; pages $5,194; librarian $500; preachers $600; copying $800; rents $500; cloak-room-keeper $963; and incidentals $160. The State never made a worse investment.

CRAB ORCHARD.

—Mr. James C. Brummett died April 10th at the residence of David J. Harris, of consumption, after much suffering.

—The Dramatic Society will render "The Rent Day" in fine style on Saturday night, the 18th inst.; also a funny little afterpiece entitled "Johnny You've Been a Bad Boy." Judging from Sunday's "soiree" the play will be very realistic.

—Miss Avarilla Payne, daughter of Mr. D. C. Payne, and one of Crab Orchard's fairest maidens, ran off Saturday and 'tis rumored that she was united in the holy bonds of wedlock with James C. Singleton, of Barbourville, at Cumberland Gap, Tenn. We wish them prosperity and a life-long honeymoon.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Rev. F. S. Pollitt is holding a glorious revival at Versailles.

—A new Christian church was dedicated at Owingsville, Sunday, by Elder Raines.

—Mr. Helm preached a strong sermon Sunday morning against the tendency of the times to disregard the Sabbath.

—Rev. H. C. Morrison's meeting at Hopkinsville closed Friday night with 130 conversions. The Kentuckian says it was the largest revival ever held in that city.

—Rev. Ben Helm commenced a meeting at Rowland Friday night and one profession rewarded the initial effort. He will be assisted by Rev. J. H. Hopper, "Bro. Joe," and beginning to-day services will be held at 3 and 7:15 p. m.

—A minister of Scottsburg, Ind., officiated at three weddings, dined in each case, walked 25 miles and preached two sermons—all on Easter Sunday. This teaches that under the stimulus of a few square meals a country minister is a very handy person.

—The M. E. Church, South, Church Extension department of the general conference boards, has helped this year 387 churches, paying them $82,729.42, as compared with 364 churches and $84,532 last year—an increase of 23 churches helped and a decrease in payments of $1,819.90.

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., - APRIL 14, 1891

W. P. WALTON.

THE constitutional convention did not get through Friday as it promised, but after a night's session and an early start Saturday, it was enabled to put up the shutters at 12:40 that afternoon. The body was in session over seven months, during which a great deal of good time was frittered away in useless debates and on questions purely legislative, and the outcome is a most cumbersome and in numerous instances a very unintelligible document, which if adopted will take the courts many years to construe. The complete instrument was published both in the Courier-Journal of Saturday and the Times of that day, requiring nearly 15 columns of solid nonpareil. The present constitution contains 12,580 words, the proposed has 21,000. It is almost a day's reading and we have not had time to read it consecutively, but a cursory perusal discloses a good many things to command and perhaps as many more to condemn. As a whole, we are not prepared to open war on the proposed organic law or to rally to its support. We shall do one or the other when we fully study it, and occupy no middle ground.

Among the changes especially praiseworthy are prohibition of local and special legislation by the general assembly; remedy of the evil of frequent elections; reform in taxation and exemption; a barrier to extravagant public expenditures and provision for the better administration of government, State, county and municipal; reduction of the grand jury from 16 to 12, three-fourths verdict in injury case authorized; conviction not to be worked outside of the prison walls; provision for a reformatory for juvenile offenders; prohibition of the State and counties and municipalities to aiding railroads or other corporations except to build turnpikes, gravel roads and bridges. The secret ballot has been substituted for the present viva voce system of voting, which its advocates believe is a safe guard around the institution absolutely necessary to preserve its purity.

On the other hand, there are numerous things that no man with the material interests of the State at heart can endorse. The article on corporations is simply idiotic and must as has been adopted for the demagogic purpose of securing votes, by pandering to the popular, but no less senseless, wholesale enmity to corporate institutions, especially railroads. With charters changeable and revocable at the will of the legislators and a prohibitory clause against a railroad company owning a coal mine and transporting its output and vice versa, a declaration is made in effect that we have a sufficient number of railroads and capital is not wanted within our borders to help develop our inexhaustible resources. We are interested in no corporation of the kind and care not whether the charge is made that we are subsidized, provided it is not made in too close proximity to us, but we are for the fair thing and want capital invited to rather than driven from Kentucky.

A WASHINGTON dispatch says that Col. W. O. Bradley was closeted two hours with President Harrison, when an exchange of views on the political situation in Kentucky was had. It is also said that the president did the most of the talking, but we do not believe it. At any rate, if true, it is the first crowd that the colonel ever was in that he didn't furnish most of the chin music. Mr. Harrison doesn't know how much fun he missed by not remaining silent.

SENATOR CARLISLE tells an interviewer that everybody knows he is not a candidate for president, though he appreciates the high compliment of the mention of his name. He is not satisfied that the time has come, however, for the Mason and Dixon line to disappear from politics. The time should have come and passed long ago, but for the bloody shirters, who hid out in war and fight gallantly in peace.

THE 51st Congress was in session 13 months and during that time it expended a billion of dollars. A calculation has been made which reveals the startling fact that this was at the rate of $28 a second for the entire term. Reed's business Congress, which he thanked God was not a deliberative body, was in for the stuff and only let go when "time was called on it."

A NEGRO who raped an 18-year-old girl near Charleston, W. Va., last Wednesday night, was arrested and indicted on Thursday, put on trial Friday and by noon Saturday he was under sentence to die May 8. The swiftness and certainty of punishment is the only way to make crime odious and take Judge Lynch's occupation away.

It is said that "Uncle Joe" Alexander paid the Courier-Journal $2,400 to publish his list of hotel arrivals. He knew the vanity of man and his desire to see his name in print, and made big money by the investment, as the long list showed.

COL. JOHN B. CASTLEMAN was elected president of the National Saddle Horse Association. The selection is an admirable one. The handsome colonel has only to bestride a horse to put everybody more in love with the equine species.

DELEGATE BRONSTON having accused the reporters of the convention of "malicious lying and misrepresentation," Mr. Bruce Haldeman replies with vigor in the Courier-Journal, because he did not have the delegates' right to arise to a question of personal privilege. Says Mr. Haldeman: "The writer understands that Mr. Bronston intended his remarks for one particular correspondent. If so, he should have so stated. In making the broad accusation he did, he intentionally or unintentionally, allowed himself to occupy the attitude of a wholesale liar." The reports of Mr. Haldeman have been unusually accurate and free from bias, as large number of the delegates admit, and Mr. Bronston should have had the manliness not to have included him in the serious charge he made. Speaking of this gentleman, who has been fitly described as having some brilliancy and a vast amount of assurance, one who has kept the run says he has been oftener on the floor than any other delegate, perhaps double as often. He has spoken once or more on every question, without especially elucidating it, and has been a great drawback to the work of the body. His so-called eloquence has cost the State many thousands of dollars.

The president and his party started on his swing around the circle at 12:10 this morning, via the Richmond & Danville railroad. The trip covers nearly every State in the South, West and Northwest and will not end till May 15th at 5 p.m.; at least that is the schedule arranged. It embraces 9,000 miles and the little man will be convinced before he gets through that this is a much larger country than he imagined. Of course the trip is for the purpose of creating a boom for his re-nomination.

The Louisville papers evidently think there is nothing in a name. The Commercial spoke of our candidate for auditor as Hon. R. T. Ward and Friday the Courier-Journal printed him R. C. Wood. If the reporters cannot catch onto the fact that the name of the next auditor of Kentucky is Richard Crutchfield Warren, the poor readers ought to know better. Managing Editors Harry Robertson and Oliver Cromwell will please enlighten those benighted individuals.

THE Central Record has rounded out a prosperous year and Bro. Marrs has demonstrated that a good paper can live and thrive in Lancaster or nearly anywhere else. There is a great deal in knowing how to do it and that knowledge is possessed to an unusual degree by the man who made the Advocate famous and is fast taking the Record in the same direction. He says he "feels" like he is on solid ground now. May he know that he is a year hence.

We would not be surprised if Mr. Laurie J. Blakely's beautiful poem published in the Covington Commonwealth and copied in the Frankfort papers, did not cut quite a figure in the capital location question in favor of the city under the hill. "The Old Bridge at Frankfort" is the title of the poem and it shows that the writer's soul is filled with the divine afflatus. No member of the convention could have read it and not felt better towards the old town.

It is also said that the president did the most of the talking, but we do not believe it. Senator Heister's funeral cost the government $15,000 or more. Every expense possible was piled up and the scenes presented were more like drunken orgies than a funeral.

Over 4,000 immigrants landed at New York Thursday, of which more than half were Italians. Over 200 are considered unfit to be admitted to this country, and must be returned.

Carter Harrison announces that he will "leave Chicago for good." He will not be the first man to leave his city for his city's good, but here's hoping he will not return to Kentucky.—Lou. Times.

Conductor Edmond Wells, one of the oldest on the Q. & C., died of injuries received at Georgetown. He stooped down to pull on his overshoe and was struck by a back train and fearfully hurt.

According to the Insurance Herald, published in Louisville, there are $89,384,159 in life insurance policies held in Kentucky, on which premiums of $2,541,312 were paid in 1890. The losses paid foot up $1,231,587.

Smythe's furniture manufacturing house and Kohl & Middleton's dime museum, at Chicago, burned Sunday, causing a loss of a million. There was panic among the freaks and one lost his life.

At a Kingston, Pa., fire one of the firemen turned the hose on a man who got within the lines and a fight followed between the firemen, policemen and business men against the mob, which lasted several hours and resulted in serious injuries to 20 or more people.

Those people who believe that men will not die with lies on their lips and put great confidence in what they say on the gallows, will learn with surprise that David Nicely, one of the brothers hung at Somerset, Pa., recently, made a confession to his spiritual adviser acknowledging the murder, of which he protested he was innocent when the rope was around his neck.

Five hundred men are standing in line in Ashland, Wis., in front of the Land Office since the 8th, although the Land Office will not be opened until April 17th. Most of the men are armed and peddlers supply them with coffee, sandwiches and beer while they wait. Some have chairs, umbrellas, mackintoshes and other comforts. They are all waiting to file early claims to the forfeited railway land grants.

A good family horse and single seated surrey, almost new, for sale. Apply to Robert Porter, post-office Stanford, Ky.

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., APRIL 14, 1891

E. C. WALTON, Bus. Manager

MEANS BUSINESS.

Your account is due and ready. Call and settle and oblige A. R. Penny.

PERSONAL POINTS.

MISS JANIE TOTTEN, of Garrard, is the guest of Miss Lula Mock.

MRS. J. H. VANHOOK, of Brodhead, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Crow.

MR. J. B. OWENS, of Harrodsburg, has been visiting Mr. S. M. Owens.

MRS. DR. J. G. CARPENTER has been visiting her parents at Crab Orchard.

J. A. CRAFT, Esq., of Louisville, passed up to his coal mines at Lily yesterday.

MISS BETSIE PENNINGTON is down from Middletown on a short visit to her parents.

MRS. AND MRS. S. P. SANDIDGE, Stewart and Miss Lucy Beazley are the guest of the Misses Beazley.

MRS. SUSAN HARRIS and daughter, Miss Montie, have moved to "Dartmouth," near Rowland.

DR. J. K. VANARSDALE was called to Waynesburg, Mo., yesterday by the serious illness of his mother.

ELDER J. Q. MONTGOMERY has returned from Adair, where he went to see his mother, who has been quite sick.

MR. J. A. CARPENTER went to Parksville Saturday to spend a few days with his and Mrs. Carpenter's parents.

MR. TIM W. HIGGINS, of Louisville, came up to Danville on business and gave his friends here a short call Friday.

MISS LUCIE LYNN, of Christian College, Hustonville, is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Lynn.

WILLIE LACKEY, of Central University, Richmond, spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents, Hon. and Mrs. G. A. Lackey.

MR. THOS. NUNNELLEY left Saturday for Tecumseh, Mich., where he takes a position with the Wrought Iron Range Company.

W. H. PETTUS, depot agent agent at Shawnee, Tenn., is with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Pettus, in this county, quite sick.

MRS. R. E. HUGHES, of the Record, and Harry Giovannoli, of the Advocate, were the newspaper representatives in town yesterday.

HON. J. B. McCREARY returned on last Thursday night from Washington, where he was a witness in the Kincaid trial.— Richmond Register.

MRS. THOMAS RICHARDS, of Junction City, came home with Miss George Wray and spent Sunday with Mrs. J. M. Wray. Mr. Wray is much improved.

MISS MAMIE WILSON and Master Turner Carpenter went to Louisville with their grand-mother, Mrs. Turner, Saturday, to visit the family of Mrs. Yager.

The prevailing disease got its grip on S. H. Baughman and throwing his 6 feet 4-inch frame in bed, held him there a week. He finally called a turn and was out Saturday.

MR. J. CARVER JONES went to Chicago Friday to take a position in an abstract office. Mr. Jones is a man of fine business qualifications and is much sought for by abstract houses.

MISS MALINDA OWSLEY, daughter of Hon. J. S. Owsley, Sr., has been chosen valedictorian at Ward's Seminary, Nashville, an honor which the friends of the bright young lady appreciate.

COL. J. W. GUEST will visit his friends at Crab Orchard next (this) week. The colonel says the only reason he dislikes to go there is that he never likes to leave after he gets there.—Danville Advocate.

JUDGE JERE WILSON, leading counsel for Charley Kincaid, says that Mr. Robt. Harding rendered great assistance in the trial and is one of the brightest young lawyers he ever met. Mrs. Harding returned home Friday.

HON. J. S. OWSLEY, Sr., and daughter, Miss Mattie, left Friday for Nashville, in answer to a telegram stating the serious illness of his daughter, Mrs. W. R. Manier. Mrs. Manier gave birth to a daughter some ten days ago and has since been very low. LATER. She was much better yesterday.

HON. W. H. MILLER has returned from his labors at Frankfort, where he acquitted himself with considerable honor and credit. He may have been a trifling too fond of speaking, but as that is a family failing he can hardly be condemned for that. He succeeded in having adopted some of the many reforms he advocated and it would have been better if more had been.

Mrs. P. P. NUNNELLEY left Saturday morning for Chardon, O., to visit her son, Mr. J. R. Nunnelley. That young man sent his mother a check for $50 and an invitation to visit him and she left immediately. This shows that Jim's heart is in the right place. Mrs. Nunnelley has not been strong all winter and we trust the trip will benefit her as she is the best of women.

CITY AND VICINITY.

SEE A. T. NUNNELLEY'S binders before you buy as he is representing The Wm. Deering Co., the best made.

FRESH lot of Zeigler Bros.' shoes at S. H. Shanks'.

FRESH Landreth's garden seeds at W. B. McRoberts'.

FLOWER crocks of every description at A. Warren's Model Grocery.

WANTED, 100,000 pounds wool. Highest cash market price. A. T. Nunnelley, Stanford.

A. T. NUNNELLEY has moved his shoe and harness shop to his livery stable on Depot street.

N. Y. IRISH POTATOES and Brazilian sweet potatoes for seed at J. B. Foster's.

MR. F. M. WARE will act as my agent at McKinney and will pay the highest cash price for wool. See one of us before selling. A. T. Nunnelley.

I WILL have no spring opening this year, but trimmed hats in great variety can always be found at my store on Lancaster street. Miss Annie Wray.

FOR RENT.—A couple of houses in Rowland, with four rooms each, property of M. Peyton. Good yards and plenty of water and conveniently located. W. A. Tribble.

THE trial of Wils Howard for the murder of a deaf mute is set for this week at Vienna, Mo., and he has been taken thither from the St. Louis jail, chained to the car seat and under an escort of six guards heavily armed.

THE gasoline for the town lamps gave out last week and consequently the Stanford citizens groped in darkness for the time. We are glad to state that a supply has arrived, however, and the proper authorities promise that there shall not be a repetition of the carelessness.

MARSHAL HUNTER passed through Sunday with Burt Thomas who escaped from the penitentiary over two years ago. Thomas had served a portion of his sentence in the pen, but escaped while working in a coal mine. His time was 5 years and he will likely have to serve several years to make up for his escape. He was captured in Owsley Co. and his offense was house-burning.

THE friends of the institution and its alumnae will be glad to learn that Daughters College is to be placed on a solid basis. President John Aug Williams has become so involved that he has yielded to solicitation and allowed a stock company with a capital of $25,000 to take charge of the financial part of the College. Prof. Williams will remain at the head of the educational part.

ACCIDENTS.—While taking down the number of his cars at Lebanon the other night Capt. J. B. Douglas stepped on a nail, which went entirely through his foot. The accident was a very painful one and the captain will limp around some time on account of it. Mr. G. D. Pope, one of the machinists at Rowland, had his right leg badly mashed by a drawhead falling on it a few days ago, and he too is a cripple for the present.

THE Danville Advocate publishes a statement of the financial condition of the city, which shows that the resources in cash or equivalent amounts to $12,500 and the indebtedness but $1,000, and proudly asks if there is a town in the State that can bear the showing. There can be no affirmative answer. By the way, are not our city council required to publish a financial statement once a year? We think they are and know that they do not.

CIRCUIT COURT.—After a very dull term Judge Morrow discharged the jurors at noon Friday. Nearly a day was lost in waiting for the plaintiff's attorneys in the malpractice suit of H. A. Pleasants against Dr. Steele Bailey and it was finally decided that a special term beginning Thursday next, would be held for the trial of it. The L. & N. Co. asked for a new trial in the case of B. G. and E. Pennington against it, but Judge Morrow refused another hearing. The case was settled the second week of the term and gave the plaintiffs $300 for killing a couple of horses. A few old equity cases were disposed of Friday morning, but none of them were worthy of mention.

No. 23 WRECKED. EXPRESSMAN KILLED.—A very serious wreck occurred two miles this side of Hazel Patch at 4 o'clock Thursday evening. Passenger train No. 23, south-bound, passed this point on time, with a large number of passengers and continued to run on time till it came near the above named place, when it ran over a broken rail, doing much damage to the train and so seriously wounding Express Agent J. W. Miller that he died some 12 hours later. The engine passed over the broken rail, but the baggage and express car left the track and the two passenger coaches were turned nearly over. A number of passengers were badly bruised, but fortunately no serious damage was done any of them. The dead express agent was one of the oldest employees in that line on this division and was very popular with the officials of the company. His home was in Louisville and he leaves a wife and several children. He was fearfully mutilated in the wreck, but it is believed that a wound on the side of his head caused his death. The north-bound trains were all delayed and it was not until Saturday that they again ran on their schedule time.

DELIGHTFUL room for rent. Mrs. P. Nunnelley.

Now is the time for Spring cleaning, for wall paper, alabastine and ready mixed paints. Go to W. B. McRoberts' for them.

D. A. TWADDLE has bought of Mr. J. Greer, of Rowland, the hotel and bar-room right to January 1, '92, at $100 per month. Possession will be given May 1st.

A. T. NUNNELLEY has moved his shoe and harness shop to his livery stable on Depot street.

N. Y. IRISH POTATOES and Brazilian sweet potatoes for seed at J. B. Foster's.

Mr. F. M. WARE will act as my agent at McKinney and will pay the highest cash price for wool. See one of us before selling. A. T. Nunnelley.

I WILL have no spring opening this year, but trimmed hats in great variety can always be found at my store on Lancaster street. Miss Annie Wray.

THE editor acknowledges with heartiest thanks a nice box of cake of numerous varieties sent by Miss Mamie White from the splendid birthday dinner of her grandmother, Mrs. Bettie Robinson, who was three score, ten and two.

KNIGHTS OF HONOR, ATTENTION.—A meeting of Hope Lodge, No. 19, K. of H., will be held at Odd Fellows Hall Friday night, April 17, 1891, at which the presence of every member is desired. By order of the Dictator. A. A. Warren, Reporter.

THE barn on Mrs. Sue Baughman's farm, near Rowland, was burned Thursday night. There was little or nothing in it and as the barn was old and rickety, the loss was not large. It is supposed that a tramp who slept in it did the dirty work.

FULLY 1,000 people witnessed the colored baptising Sunday afternoon. Rev. G. W. Bowling was the officiating minister and some 20 sinners were made as white as snow. Three of the good sisters got supremely happy but were sufficiently subdued to realize the solemnity of the occasion.

In the county court yesterday Tom Ferrill at Rowland, Weatherford & Brown and Wallace Steele at Hustonville and J. H. Greer at Rowland, were granted liquor license. Mrs. Sallie E. Bailey qualified as administrator of her husband, W. C. Bailey, and E. D. Peyton qualified as administrator of George W. Bobbitt. The wills of Elinda Baugh, Adaline Hobbs, Green Jones and Thornton Porter were probated, Robert L. Porter executor of the latter.

LOST $400.—Mr. Anthony Sabrey, the tailor who works for Mr. H. C. Rupley, lost $400 to the Schwartz failure in Louisville. He had that amount on deposit but did not care to mention it while the other losers were grumbling over it. Two of the partners in the swindle, old man Schwartz and Brockenhurst, were jailed Saturday on the charge of conspiracy to defraud.

THE Swope monument is at last in place in Buffalo Cemetery and it is a very large and imposing one. It is about 40 feet high and of the hardest Vermont granite. At the proper place the name "Swope" appears in bold relief and on the north side of the die is "Lucinda Swope, wife of David Swope, born February 4, 1815, died March 9, 1880. A loving mother and a woman of courage and thought." She was Col. Swope's mother. On the south side appears;

GANTER'S MAGIC CHICKEN—CHOLERA CURE!

Thousands of dollars worth of chickens are destroyed by Cholera every year. It is more fatal to them than all other diseases combined. But the discovery of a liquid remedy that positively destroys the Microbes has been made. Half of the young chickens are killed by Microbes before they are fryers. A 50-cent bottle is enough for 100 chickens. It is guaranteed. If, after using two thirds of a bottle, you are not satisfied with it as a cure for Cholera, return it to the druggist from whom you purchased it, and he will refund your money.

For sale by W. B. McRoberts, druggist Stanford.

DORSEY GOULDUST,

Standard No. 12052.

This young roaster stallion is an inbred Gold-dust. Foaled in April, 1887, he is 2 1/2 years old, and stands 15 hands high, and is unexcelled in style, action, and speed.

Fall brother to Estelle, 2 1/2 years old; Corne, 3-year-old; trill 2 1/2; and Montrose, the speedy and premium colt 2 1/2. Sired by Zilcadzi Gold-dust (by Gold-dust, 2 1/2), out of Verona, Morgan. Closer is related to Maud S., 2 1/2, and John, 2 1/2, than any other stallion, the first 5 year-old stallion to trot in public as fast as 2 1/2, sired of Cigarette, dam of Rosalie Wilkes (the fastest mare of the 1886 race, record 2 1/2). Whirlwind, 2 1/2, Fair Gold-dust, 2 1/2, etc. Dan Florence, dam of Estelle 2 1/2, by Golden Mingo Chief, son of Gantner Morgan.

Over 50 performances have a strong infusion of Gold-dust and Morgan blood.

Dorsey Gold-dust will make the present season at my place 2 1/2 miles from Stanford on the Hustonville pike.

At $15 to Insure a Living Colt.

Mares kept on reasonable terms. Personal attention given, but not responsible for accidents.

At same time and place, will make the season with one of Levi Hubble's best bred young jacks.

ROSCOE.

He is black with white points, nearly 15 hands high, fine length, bone and body, 3 years old. Sired by Joe Blackburn, First, by Dan Ross, Embry, by Stonewall Jackson, his dam by John Baughman, his jack by Jim Porter; 3d dam Ellen Blythe by Blythe's Hanibal, his by Compromise; 4th dam a fine black jennet sold by Dr. Bennett, of Madison county, to Levi Hubble.

At $10 for a Living Colt.

A lien will be retained on colts for season.

F. REID, Stanford.

HORSE SHOW DAY.

Yesterday was a grand day and the horses for miles around were here on exhibition. The show lasted for a couple of hours and the lovers of fine stock enjoyed it supremely.

Belmont Chief 8689, owned by J. P. Crow, made a splendid show. He is a fine mover and with his fine breeding, was much admired. Mr. Crow did not bring his excellently bred private stallion, Sumac.

Mercury county was represented by D. M. & A. S. Bowman's fine Bellevue Wilkes 13904. He is one of the fastest sons of the great Red Wilkes 1749 and at 3 years made a record of 2:29.

Charles Dunn's Breeze Wilkes was much admired and won additional interest in the Petoskey tribe.

Adonis, the young Second Jewell stallion, property of Mr. F. F. Sandidge, is a fine saddler and Mr. Sandidge secured several mares by showing him.

J. Steele Carpenter had his fine saddlers, Wallace Denmark and Lexell, and was the recipient of a liberal share of the compliments of the day.

Charley Spoonamore's Ed Barlow 2375 was the subject of much favorable comment and many wondered why the owner stood him at such a low figure.

A. M. Pence's Rienzi stallion, Pence, was in fine trim and handled himself to the satisfaction of his host of admirers. His King Buckden saddler was also greatly admired.

Hon. G. A. Lackey's Silver King stud, Lord Clifton, was much complimented and his fine saddle qualities will not be forgotten by the breeders of this section. This fine horse has made 8 showings in fair rings and has to his credit 7 premiums and one certificate.

The Beazley Bros. showed their handsome young stallion, Silver Tip. He is a handsome bay and knows how to handle himself as well as the best of them.

Capt. T. A. Elkin showed a couple of fine ones. His Arthur Sims and Wyandotte are as handsomely bred a pair as most anybody can show and did themselves credit by their trotting proclivities.

E. F. Faulconer had Quinine S., a brother of Geneva S., and was the recipient of many compliments. He promises to equal his speedy sire.

R. Gentry & Son, of Boyle, showed Gambetta 1172, sire of Cleo, 2:29, and a private stallion that they have not yet named.

T. B. Walker, of Lancaster, had McCreary, Orange Wilkes and Denmark and received a full quota of kindly mentions.

Gilt Edge, property of Madison Sandidge & Son, was much admired. He is a beautiful sorrel and moves with much ease and grace.

Chancy Denmark was shown by Luther Underwood and was the subject of much favorable comment.

J. K. Baughman had on exhibition Naboth and Star Denmark. The former is a speedy 3 year-old and the latter is a sadder of much reputation.

George Dictator 3862, the property of M. S. Baughman, was in fine trim and showed himself to be a fine mover. He is by Dictator 113, sire of Jay-Eye See, Phallas, Director and 20 others in the 2:30 list.

The thoroughbred Waukesha, property of Samuel Reid, attracted much attention.

Screamer, Jr., owned by James Peoples, Jr., proved himself a fine saddler. E. P. Woods' Eagle Bird is a "dandy" sure enough. He is of the old Star Eagle stock and of course a fine saddle horse.

The string of Messrs. S. H. & J. H. Baughman, including Minstrel, Little Ruffian, Powhatan, Congregan and Eagle Denmark, received a liberal portion of favorable comment.

Eubanks Bros. exhibited Messenger, a full brother to Maud S. and Johnston, was one of the favorites of the day.

Ericsson, Jr., E. S. Powell proprietor, made an excellent showing. One of his 2-year-olds, Sullivan, was also greatly admired.

Capt. B. F. Powell showed Solid Shot, a handsome 3-year-old.

A. W. Carpenter's King Curtis 9634 showed himself to be a fine stepper and won much praise.

There were a number of fine jacks exhibited and they kept the air resonant with their peculiar music.

At $15 to Insure a Living Colt.

Mares kept on reasonable terms. Personal attention given, but not responsible for accidents.

At same time and place, will make the season with one of Levi Hubble's best bred young jacks.

ROSCOE.

He is black with white points, nearly 15 hands high, fine length, bone and body, 3 years old. Sired by Joe Blackburn, First, by Dan Ross, Embry, by Stonewall Jackson, his dam by John Baughman, his jack by Jim Porter; 3d dam Ellen Blythe by Blythe's Hanibal, his by Compromise; 4th dam a fine black jennet sold by Dr. Bennett, of Madison county, to Levi Hubble.

At $10 for a Living Colt.

A lien will be retained on colts for season.

F. REID, Stanford.

ADONIS

Will make the season of 1891 at my stable 1½ miles from Milledgeville, Lincoln county, on the Stanford & Milledgeville pike,

ADONIS is a rich bay in color, was foaled in 1888; he stands full 16 hands high and is strictly a fine horse, smooth turned of extra muscular development, showing great power. He has an excellent set of legs, flat, clean and hard in finish, the individual merit of this stallion in form, firm and action is fully up to and in keeping with his high breeding. His oldest colts are coming 3 years old and also show great natural speed. He had a 2-year-old owned by E. W. Cribs, Decatur, Mich., the colt is said to be better than 2 to last year. I will pay $50 to the breeder of the first 2-year-old of his gun since he has been owned by me.

BELMONT CHIEF will make the season of 1891 at my place near McKinney at 2:29.

ADONIS is a red jack, 3 years old, 15 hands high, and is unexcelled in style, action, and speed.
